Operational Capabilities

Strategic Importance of Spangdahlem AB (cont'd.)

Rheinland-Pfalz

MINISTERIUM DES INNERN
UND FÜR SPORT

- Spangdahlem AB's Strengths and Benefits
 - + Energy-independence through direct connection to NATO fuel pipeline
 - + Utilization Flexibility for various military capabilities (fighter jets, tankers, search and rescue, etc.) and potential for expansion due to remote location
- Synergies
 - + Additional Capacity to support Ramstein AB during peak utilization times or in case of rapid forward deployment needs
 - + Strategic Redundancy to Ramstein AB in case of air space congestion from commercial air traffic at Frankfurt International Airport (FRA), inclement weather, emergencies, etc.
 - + Training Synergies at close-by USAG Baumholder for US and/or with NATO partners

Budgetary Considerations

Overview

Rheinland-Pfalz

MINISTERIUM DES INNERN
UND FÜR SPORT

- The historically regular MILCON approach for the construction and maintenance of capital assets at overseas installations has the following disadvantages:
 1. Payment of capital cost upfront
 2. Entire risk of ownership on US over the useful life of the asset (typ. >40 years)
 - ➔ Reduced flexibility if stationing priorities change over 40 years and investments appear costly if only amortized over 10 – 20 years
- RLP has current and potential programmatic offerings that can lower cost and associated risk for major components:
 1. Family Housing
 2. Infrastructure
 - ➔ With a joint commitment to flexibility to modify historically bureaucratic rules, RLP can leverage its financial strengths to lower overall US stationing costs even more

Budgetary Considerations

Family Housing

Rheinland-Pfalz

MINISTERIUM DES INNERN
UND FÜR SPORT

- Less costly / less risky housing alternatives to MILCON are:
 1. Build-to-Lease (BTL) (often with 10-year minimum lease term)
 2. Private Rentals using OHA
- 1. BTL still requires a lease commitment period, but
 - No upfront capital investment is required and US only assumes risk over lease commitment period vs. useful life of the asset
 - Construction costs can be reduced while increasing residual value by leveraging private sector best practices and building to local standards
 - RLP can lower the annual payments by offering additional years of rent guarantee, which allows the owner to amortize over a longer period than the US is committed to fund
- 2. OHA Solution is least costly and least risky, because
 - One OHA does not fund one new house – the use of OHA is less than the monthly cost (mortgage payment) of one adequate new house, but the result is the same – one family housed
 - Commitment for lease payment only when unit is occupied

Family Housing

Rheinland-Pfalz

MINISTERIUM DES INNERN
UND FÜR SPORT

- In support of the US Forces, RLP has
 - Established and is funding a public-private development company in order to support US housing needs in RLP
 - Developed an approach that can lower the cost of a BTL by providing additional years of rent guarantee beyond the US commitment period
 - Initiated a modernization incentive program offering up to € 20,450 / unit to private landlords that are exclusively renting to US service members for at least 10 years

- In support of the US Forces, RLP is
 - Working on developing a pilot program to build new energy efficient housing units with focus on lowering operating costs (for USAG Baumholder; off-base market).
 - Working on creating a new service program under the Rental Partnership Program (RPP) umbrella that provides a convenient and hassle-free one-stop shop to service members looking for a rental unit in the private market.

Budgetary Considerations

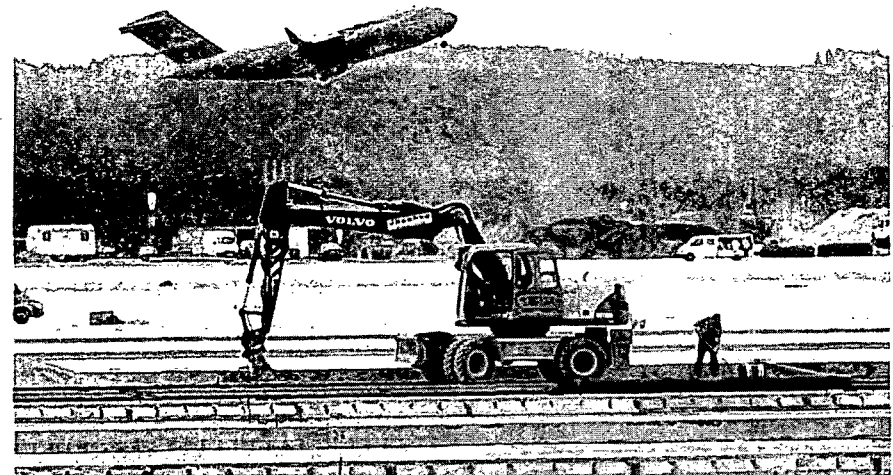

Infrastructure

Rheinland-Pfalz

MINISTERIUM DES INNERN
UND FÜR SPORT

- Similar to housing, MILCON appropriations have historically been used for the construction of infrastructure assets such as utilities, roads, runways, etc.
 - Privatization of infrastructure projects can shift ownership risk inherent in capital improvements away from US and convert capital investments into more flexible operating cost agreements; thus preserving MILCON funds
- RLP can lower the cost associated with capital projects through PPP initiatives and reduce financing costs by leveraging its financial resources to reduce risk
 - RLP is ready to start developing concrete project proposals together with USAFE and USAREUR promptly

Budgetary Considerations

Infrastructure

Rheinland-Pfalz

MINISTERIUM DES INNERN
UND FÜR SPORT

- RLP and federal government of Germany have provided numerous infrastructure support initiatives throughout RLP, such as
 1. Improved installation access roads (Ramstein, Baumholder, Spangdahlem)
 2. Improved heating supply utilities (Ramstein, Baumholder)
 3. Restored direct rail access (Baumholder)
- If possible, US needs and priorities will be considered for any future infrastructure projects in RLP

Conclusions

- RLP remains committed to supporting future basing efforts in close cooperation with the US Forces
- RLP is the “New Gateway to Europe”, providing a secure and interconnected hub with an excellent logistics network for missions in Africa, the Middle East and Europe
- Ramstein and Spangdahlem ABs have received approximately $466 million in infrastructure improvements through the Rhein-Main Transition Program
- In particular, Spangdahlem AB is of strategic importance as primary overflow and divert base to Ramstein AB, with excess capacity / expansion potential and the flexibility for stationing of various different capabilities
